TERMCAT publishes an online dictionary on ophthalmology

This online dictionary gathers about 1,200 terms relating to ophthalmology, organized under six thematic fields: anatomy, physiology, exploration, semiology, pathology, and therapeutics. It offers definitions and denominations in Catalan, with equivalent terms in Spanish and English and, where appropriate, international anatomical terms.

It is the online version of the Diccionari d'oftalmologia ('Dictionary of Ophthalmology') that was published by TERMCAT with support from the Government of Catalonia and the assessment of specialists from the University of Barcelona and the Catalan Society of Ophthalmology.

Conference CINEO II in São Paulo

The TermNeo Project and the Faculty of Humanities of São Paulo University invite all EAFT members to participate in the II Internacional Conference on Neology in Romance Language.

Suggestions

The European Association for Terminology is a non-profit professional organisation for the terminology sector in Europe. It is designed to further plurilingualism through terminology, to provide a European platform for promoting and professionalising terminological activities and improving awareness of them, and to liaise and cooperate actively with relevant organisations, associations and institutions.

Do not hesitate to send us comments or suggestions that could help us accomplish our mission or that could draw our attention to any forthcoming event or activity. We would be pleased to include them in the next issue as well as in our agenda.

Contact:
term@eaft-aet.net

The conference will take place on 5-8 December 2011 at São Paulo University.

Articles

Marita Kristiansen. Associate professor at the Department of Professional and Intercultural Communication of The Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration in Bergen: Language Planning in Higher Education. The Case of Microeconomics.

In this paper, Dr.art. Kristiansen presents a project of establishing a microeconomics knowledge base at the Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration (NHH). The purpose has been to create a pedagogic tool based on sound terminological principles and methods, which may be used by the school's bachelor students as a means for them to better understand their English curriculum, and which may enable them to communicate its content in their mother tongue, i.e. Norwegian.
